

Construction Update for the Week of July 2

The beginning of July marks the midway point of construction in Old Town Algonquin! Visit oldtownalgonquin.org to view how Main Street looked prior to construction, a time-lapse video of the work completed so far, and planned design features.

On Wednesday, construction will be suspended in recognition of Independence Day. Crews will resume installing the new water main on Thursday.

If you generously supported previous downtown projects with a donation and you are interested in reclaiming your engraved brick paver, please do so as the July 31st deadline is approaching. For more information about this process and who to contact visit oldtownalgonquin.org.

As a reminder, Main Street from Washington Street to Algonquin Road is currently functioning as a one-way only southbound street through this phase of construction. Vehicles traveling northbound on Main Street are being detoured at Washington Street to Harrison Street.

For detour maps and construction updates, visit the project website at www.OLDTOWNALGONQUIN.ORG. If you have any questions or concerns, you can contact the construction team at any time or attend the next Coffee with the Contractor on July 13 from 9:00 am - 10:00 am at St. John's Lutheran Church, 300 Jefferson Street.
