

Construction Update for the Week of September 23

Starting today, the stage 1 detour (see map below) is in effect as contractors begin setting up equipment and materials for the dewatering system. Installation of the temporary wells that are part of the dewatering system will begin mid week. Once installed, it is anticipated to take approximately one week for the water levels to lower and allow crews to perform necessary construction work.

During the current detour, residents and business will have access to properties within the work zone. Please be aware that during business hours, there will be times the the contractor will need to reduce the number of lanes along North Harrison Street between Edwards and Brook streets from two lanes to one lane. As a safety precaution, flaggers will be on site to direct traffic.

Detour Alert

The Stage 1 detour plan is in effect. The detour is expected to remain in place until construction between Front and Edward streets is completed. Access to the residents and businesses within the work zone will be maintained.
